It has been reported that another person has been exposed to your blood or other bodily fluids. Several viruses can be transmitted by such an exposure. When this occurs, the exposed person must live with the uncertainty of the risk and outcome of the exposure for several months which can be very stressful.

You can help receive their stress and anxiety by agreeing to test for the following viruses that are transmitted in blood or other bodily fluids:

- Hepatitis B Antigen
- Hepatitis C Antibody
- Human Immuno-deficiency Virus (HIV) Antibody

It is not suggested that you present an increased risk to the exposed person for any of the viruses listed above. However, although nothing is known about your risk factors for these viruses, we ask for your consent to be tested simply to reduce the stress and anxiety of the person who has been exposed.

Your test results would be handled with strict confidentiality and used by the physician to determine treatment of the exposed patient only. Information obtained by the testing of the child will not be communicated with the district or its employees. Actual test results will be released to you only. If you would like to help, please contact your health care provider to arrange for testing.

Please sign the attached Release of Information Form so that your test results may be released to the health care provider of the exposed person.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact our Human Resources Department at 732-4090 Ext 222.

Thank you for your help.
